

Educators Rising Week

February 5-9, 2024

February is Career and Technical Education Month, a public awareness campaign designed to celebrate the value of CTE and the achievements and accomplishments of CTE programs across the country. As a career and technical student organization, Educators Rising is proud to be supporting students as they explore a career in education! Educators Rising Week is centered around celebrating our members and broadening awareness of the resources and content that Educators Rising offers.

As Educators Rising is a classroom-based program, we hope you will join us in participating in our planned week of activities. The following schedule is broken down into days, with each day outlining any preplanning necessary, followed by the day of events. Please don't forget to post your activities and events for each day on social media using the hashtag #EdRising24 so we can share from the national accounts!

- Monday 2/5 – Educators Rising Spirit Day - Post yourself with your Educators Rising gear on and tag @EducatorsRising and #EdRising24 on Instagram and Twitter! Don't have any EdRising gear? Wear anything education-related.
- Tuesday 2/6 – Teacher/Staff Appreciation Day - Post a selfie or picture with a teacher/staff member who has inspired you! Add a caption to your post thanking them and why. Tag @EducatorsRising and #EdRising24 on the post. Encourage other EdRising members to do the same in your post!
- Wednesday 2/7 – Educators Rising Day of Service - Join us as we come together to volunteer and support our teachers, students, and staff inside local schools across the country. Post a community service event you're doing with your chapter. You can always post different community service ideas for others to take part in.
- Thursday 2/8 – Sharing "My Why" - Make a post on why you want to be in the education field, be it in a video or picture. Share on Instagram and tag @educatorsrising and #EdRising24.
- Friday 2/9 – Support Educators Rising Day - Fundraise for your chapter to continue to host great events, support your local community, and attend the National Conference!

Lastly, we are now on TikTok! Follow us @educatorsrising to stay up to date about events, important reminders, live events, etc! You will also get to meet our National Student Officers and Ambassadors as well as some of our staff members!
